Conference Guide

For Delegates

WELCOME TO WCLR

Dear delegates,

Let us be the first to welcome you to Kelowna and the Western Canadian Leadership Retreat (WCLR). We, the WCLR 2016 Program Team (PT), are extremely excited to share with you the conference we have been planning for the last few months. The Okanagan has so much to offer and we are more than happy to be your tour guides for the weekend.

WCLR 2016 is a conference designed to equip you with the skills, knowledge, and connections you'll need to ensure a year full of success within your respective organizations. With many of you having only recently officially taken office, it's the perfect time to get you set on the right path while you still have the whole summer ahead of you to plan, prepare, and finally execute!

We look forward to meeting the top student leaders of Western Canada and helping develop their skills so that they can achieve their own goals.

Sincerely,

Cody

May 2016

Welcome to our Community!

We would like to extend a very warm welcome to the Okanagan where spectacular vistas await you!

We are pleased that the University of British Columbia Okanagan is hosting the 2016 Western Canadian Leadership Retreat in Kelowna. Provincially, we are continually looking for new ways of doing business. We have made great strides in providing small business an environment in which they can succeed and grow. Low taxes, a low regulatory burden and a highly skilled labour force all contribute to ensuring the success of our BC small businesses. In fact, the mandate of the newly established Ministry of Small Business and Red Tape Reduction is to ensure small businesses in our province continue to have every opportunity to create jobs and grow into the medium and large sized businesses of the future. You will find that the Okanagan Valley is very much open for business and committed to enhancing BC's business climate. Kelowna is an exceptional place to meet and we encourage you be inspired by our community while working on your personal and professional development.

Enjoy your time in the Okanagan Valley and we wish you a successful retreat.

Sincerely,

WELCOME TO KELOWNA

OVERVIEW

The Western Canadian Leadership Retreat (WCLR) is an annual leadership development conference for student leaders from Western Canada. Each CABS member school from British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan, and Manitoba send executive board members from their business student government to the event. WCLR gives these delegates the opportunity to develop planning, implementation, and management skills that will improve their ability to perform as student leaders.

WCLR's smaller, intimate focus sets it apart from the large annual conferences such as Roundtable and the National Business School Conference. The focus of WCLR is to introduce executive members from different schools to one another, while working on personal and professional development. WCLR is also a forum which allows schools to plan inter-school events for the upcoming year.

CITY OF KELOWNA

Kelowna is the largest city in British Columbia's Okanagan Valley, and serves as the Head Office of the Regional District of Central Okanagan.

It's the third largest metropolitan area in the province and ranks as the 22nd largest in Canada, with a population of 179,839 at the last census in 2011. Bordering Okanagan Lake, which some believe is home to a giant serpent-like creature known as Ogoopogo, Kelowna is well known for its hot summers and temperate winters.

Economically, the service industry employs the most people in Kelowna - in summer, boating, golf, hiking, and biking are popular, and in winter, both Alpine skiing and Nordic skiing are favourite activities at the nearby Big White and Silver Star ski resorts.

The city is home to two major post-secondary institutions, the University of British Columbia's Okanagan Campus and Okanagan College, with the former serving 8000+ students and the latter around 5000.

Beyond its scenic lake vistas and its dry, mild climate, Kelowna has gained international recognition for its vineyards and related wines. It is one of the fastest growing cities in North America and continues to evolve through rapid development.

ABOUT WCLR

OUR HOSTS

The University of British Columbia's Okanagan Campus will be our host location for all of WCLR's sessional programming on May 13th and May 14th

Faculty of Management UBC Okanagan

The UBC Faculty of Management, UBC Okanagan's business faculty, offers both undergraduate and postgraduate study options for business students. Faculty members are not only prominent researchers, but leaders in business education who give students the tools they need to succeed in fast-paced, global environments. Students studying an undergraduate obtain a Bachelor of Management upon completion of their degree, with the ability to minor in Economics, Sociology, or Psychology. With a 2 + 2 structure of prerequisites and varied learning immediately preceding core years of Management courses, combined with the smaller class sizes featured at UBC Okanagan, students of the program receive a truly unique and valuable experience that helps them stand out as future business leaders.

Management Student Association UBC Okanagan

The Management Student Association (MSA) is a non-profit organization representing 800+ students studying in the Faculty of Management at UBC Okanagan. As a proud member of the Canadian Association of Business Students (CABS), the MSA connects students with a nationwide network of academic and professional development opportunities.

Through a comprehensive offering of programs and events, the MSA ensures that every Faculty of Management student has the ability to maximize the value and experience of their education and undergraduate journey. The MSA's continued success has resulted in multiple CABS Awards, as well as recognition at the local and national level.

MEET THE TEAM

Cody MacKay | Executive Director, External

Cody graduated from UBC's Faculty of Management in 2015, after 4+ years in campus-wide student leadership roles. Ranging from being a Residence Advisor to co-founding UBC Okanagan's first Photography Club, these experiences were absolutely critical in leading him to where he is today. After two years of Marketing leadership with the Management Student Association (MSA) and one year as VP Marketing for CABS, Cody now works for Odlum Brown Limited as an Investment Assistant. Founded in Vancouver, BC in 1923, the company is one of Canada's few remaining independent, employee-owned, full-service investment firms. When not working or volunteering, Cody loves to capture Okanagan landscapes with his Nikon D7000, explore Kelowna's countless bike paths and trails, or spend time reading a good book.

Nina Mulberry | Executive Director, Internal

Nina is a 4th year undergraduate in UBC's Faculty of Management with a specialization in finance. In addition to her school responsibilities, Nina became an active member of the Management Student Association (MSA) this past year, and she also finds the time for a position at RE/MAX Kelowna as an office administrator and conveyancing assistant. Nina thoroughly enjoys organizing and managing events for business-oriented students to get them more involved and create a sense of community. Just in this past year, she has co-chaired the Internal Competitions for the MSA, which consisted of creating and coordinated the OC as well as the annual case competition for first and second year students. Moving forward, Nina will serve as the co-chair of the MSA's Calgary Business Trip for F2017.

Jennifer Stolarchuk | Director of Events

A Vancouver, British Columbia-born third year UBC Faculty of Management student at UBC Okanagan, Jenny has been heavily involved in extra-curriculars for some time - she placed 1st in last year's JDC West competition as a member of JDC West - UBCO's Entrepreneurship team and was a member of the Management Student Association's (MSA) Innovation Council for F2016. Heading into F2017, Jenny has been elected to serve as the MSA's VP Academics, which she's currently balancing with her #WCLR16 Program Team duties. With a planned graduation date of 2017, Jenny hopes to pursue her CFA while balancing entrepreneurial ambitions.

Lauren Legan | Director of Logistics

Lauren is a student of the UBC Faculty of Management at UBC Okanagan, with a focus on accounting, who is set to graduate in 2017. In addition to her role with WCLR 2016, she will be serving as the Manager of Conferences and Competitions for the upcoming academic year with the Management Student Association (MSA) - her intention is to have students experience the inspiration and stimulus of innovation that comes from attending business student conferences! Rounding out her extra-curricular pursuits includes her capacity as President of the UBC Okanagan Kiva club, and a role as the incoming Ad Sales Manager for The Phoenix News, the UBSCSUO campus newspaper. Outside of school, Lauren is a Customer Service Representative for Scotiabank.

Luke Cooke | Director of Sessions & Speaker Relations

Luke is a third year Management student at UBC Okanagan. Born and raised in Kelowna, British Columbia, Luke grew up competing nationally in wake-boarding and also played a high level of baseball until his second year in university. After hanging up the cleats, Luke was fortunate to have close friends, Darvis Yates and Douglas Canning, inspire him by #makingwaves within the UBC Faculty of Management's extra-curricular environment. As such, Luke decided to get involved with the JDC West JDC West - UBCO team and various other competitions & conferences, and eventually the Management Student Association (MSA). Wanting to ensure more students could make the most of their university careers, Luke ran for and was elected to the position of President for the MSA in F2017.

ACCOMODATIONS

- 7. Follow the itinerary and instructions from the WCLR 2016 Program Team & Volunteers, as well as the CABS Management Team

THE SESSIONS

FRIDAY

Organizational Development

The Organizational Development session is meant to examine an ideal Business Student Association, based on organization, structure, operations, governance, strategy, and execution. Delegates will analyze their own associations to find areas of improvement or growth, discuss operating structure, and work through change management processes. Upon completing the workshop, members in attendance should have a better understanding of the situations and circumstances where their operational goals become intertwined with their overall business structure, with an understanding of the required steps and actions to develop and improve their organization.

Project Management

In this session, delegates will learn about methods and best practices in regards to leading and managing Business Student Association operations and related projects. In the workshop, delegates will examine various techniques to better guide, monitor, and objectively measure the success and execution of various project-type initiatives. Upon completing the workshop, members should have a good understanding of the need to work with, train, and lead others on their respective council and committees, and how to balance leadership and management. Additionally, members should understand how to structure project management tools into the operating structure of the BSA and how to get the most value out of these tools; they should also have a better understanding for which projects they believe are critical to their success in the upcoming year and how to place more oversight over the execution on those vital initiatives.

Leadership & Motivation

This session examines the vital role of leadership and how to motivate a team, with a particular focus on BSA operations. Delegates will be able to get a glimpse of the choices they make as leaders that will affect how their society will function in the upcoming year and how work/life balance and team dynamics will play a role in the success of their BSA's performance. Members in attendance should have a better understanding of the situations and circumstances where their choices as a leader will have subsequent effects on their teams and organization. At a high level, students should have a good understanding of the various methods of leadership and how each of those methods affect their organization.

SATURDAY

Portfolio Discussion

Portfolio discussions will allow similar executives, sharing similar responsibilities and functions, to openly discuss areas of interest and shared challenges through a moderated environment. Moderators will take delegate feedback to create a structured agenda, while keeping subsequent discussions and developments moving forward with minimal repetition and irrelevance.

Strategic Planning & Goal Setting

Within this session, delegates will review best practices for leading a BSA from a strategic goal planning standpoint; they will also examine various techniques on how to strategically plan around the various goals they have set or will be setting for their organizations. Members in attendance will gain critical insight into the ways to develop a strategic plan through the assessment of their respective strengths, weaknesses, risks, and opportunities. At a high level, students should have a good understanding of how to form the background knowledge of their current situation of their association's relative environment. Other aspects of the session can include how to take the knowledge of the current situation and set a strategic plan in place, how to goal set, how to develop SMART objectives, how to build a balance scorecard, how to derive KPI's, develop workflows, develop heatmaps, and etc. Overall, delegates should come away with a sense of how to develop a strategic plan document, develop measurable goals, and how to use benchmarks to keep accountable throughout the year, and to utilize these as a basis for an annual report to stakeholders.

Developing Powerful Partnerships

This session focuses on reviewing best practices of leading a BSA in the area of corporate and partnership relations. Areas of focus will include leveraging transitional materials, managing relationships, creating value propositions, and growing corporate partnerships. This session will also offer delegates various techniques on how to deal with new and existing partners, along with reinforcing the essentials of account management and mutually beneficial outcomes.

Successful Event Management

With Successful Event Management, delegates will review best practices for BSA event management. Delegates will examine various techniques on how to lead their various teams from the idea stage on an event through the various planning, preparation, and execution stages. Other areas of focus will include event concept, planning logistics, marketing, cross-portfolio communication, and leveraging association assets for corporate partnerships.

SESSION LEADERS

Dan Ballingal | TELUS Communications | Senior Marketing & Strategy Manager

A 2014 Bachelor of Management graduate, Daniel is currently a Senior Marketing & Strategy Manager at TELUS Communications, energetically working to develop how technology will drive efficient business and social models in the Canadian enterprise market. Before finishing his studies at UBC Okanagan, Dan founded the campus' inaugural Marketing Club, served as VP Marketing for the MSA (F2014), held a term on the Board of Directors for the UBC Community Service Learning Program (Okanagan), and participated in various leadership conferences and events across the country. Based out of Vancouver, BC, Dan manages to find time outside of his busy work schedule to help build approachable corporate networking circles and opportunities for aspiring young professionals as a member of The Pacific Club - he also invests in his community through various charity initiatives through the TELUS Community Investment Program.

Jordan Dyck | Coca-Cola Company | District Sales Manager

Successfully completing his Bachelor of Management in 2013, Jordan was the president of the UBC Faculty of Management's Management Student Association (MSA) at UBC Okanagan for the F2013 term. Since his term as MSA president, Jordan has taken on a series of roles with the Coca-Cola company, including a two-year stint in Toronto, Ontario as part of the organization's University Talent Program (UTP). Throughout his experience with the UTP, Jordan held a number of roles in the food service side of the business, where he gained exposure to leadership projects, classroom training, and mentoring through management-specific opportunities. Jordan was the youngest and first graduate of the program in North America, which has taken him back to Kamloops, British Columbia as a current District Sales Manager for the interior of the province. In the near future, Jordan plans to pursue either his MBA or law school. In his spare time, Jordan enjoys downhill mountain biking at Whistler Blackcomb and Silverstar Mountain - he also "struggles" at golf (as he puts it), and enjoys hockey in the winter.

Haley Parent | Manifeast Nutrition | Owner

While an undergraduate at UBC Okanagan, Haley was able to maximize her academic experience while stepping outside her comfort zone as the VP Events for the MSA. Creating events that fulfilled students' desire for connection and engagement outside the classroom became a major passion, and her biggest accomplishment with the MSA as a whole. During her time with the association, she created several new legacy events and initiatives that are still growing today. During her studies, Haley also found a passion for nutrition and wellness. Since graduation, she completed further education to become a Certified Nutritional Practitioner. Currently, she is working in Vancouver as a nutritionist within her business, Manifeast Nutrition, where she works to educate and inspire individuals to become excited about food again and to take charge of their health - beginning with optimal nutrition. Through her venture, she provides nutrition coaching, nutrient-dense catering, and insightful workshops and talks. When not working on her company, she spends her free time experimenting with new foods and recipes, practicing yoga, and exploring the beautiful Pacific Northwest.

Kyla Stewart | MNP LLP | Senior Accountant, Assurance

Kyla is an alumni of the UBC Faculty of Management at the UBC Okanagan campus, who graduated in 2013 with her Bachelor of Management. She served on the Management Student Association in F2013 as the VP of Academic Affairs, which she complemented with stints as an academic competitor for JDC West - UBCO at JDC West - she's now a coach for the team, and helped guide the 2016 Accounting team to a third place finish! While Kyla is originally from Northern British Columbia, she has long since made Kelowna, British Columbia her home, and is now active on community boards and competes in local recreational athletics. She's also completed her Masters of Professional Accounting in 2015 from the Edwards School of Business at the University of Saskatchewan, and went on to successfully write the first ever CFE exam in the fall. She currently works at MNP LLP as a senior accountant in the assurance practice.

Kwame Boateng | Odlum Brown Limited | Investment Assistant

Kwame is a UBC Okanagan UBC Faculty of Management alumni, who graduated with his Bachelor of Management in 2013. During his undergrad, he took part in various student-led competitions and groups - he competed at JDC West with JDC West - UBCO, and he started the faculty's first-ever Investment Club, which had 90 members at its peak! Kwame got involved with the Management Student Association in the final year of his undergraduate, where his capacity as VP Corporate Relations was instrumental in helping to build lasting networks between the students and the local business community. He now works alongside a group of highly qualified Investment Advisers and Portfolio Managers at Odlum Brown Limited, one of Canada's most prestigious independent investment firms. The company, which also employs our Executive Director, External, Cody MacKay, has been voted one of Canada's best managed firms for 17 consecutive years! When he's not at work, Kwame is either studying for his CFA Institute Level III Exam, reading a book, or "pretending to be physically active", as he puts it!

SESSION LEADERS

Alexander Reed | Predator Ridge | Resort Sales Manager

Alexander, more commonly known as Zander, graduated from UNBC with a Bachelor of Commerce degree in the spring of 2011. Zander has attended seven JDC Wests in total including three as a delegate (Social, Marketing, and Co-Captain), and four as an alumni guest DJ. Upon completing his degree, Zander moved to the Okanagan after accepting a position at Predator Ridge. After five years and four different roles he is still at Predator Ridge, now as Resort Sales Manager. He hopes to continue learning everyday, taking advantage of the opportunities as they come, and build experience toward his long term career goal of a resort general manager. Zander's favourite past-times include playing golf and tennis in the summer, and hockey and volleyball in the winter. He also enjoys cooking, supporting the BC craft beverage industry, and long walks on the beach.

Drew Vincent | COEDC | Manager of the Okanagan Young Professionals

Drew is a graduate of Okanagan college, where he was heavily involved in an entrepreneurial organization called Enactus. When he finished school he went into the tech industry following that entrepreneurial experience. Working in ag tech and Ed tech companies both out of Accelerate Okanagan. He eventually transitioned into a contractor doing accounting and marketing work with companies in the Okanagan. Drew now heads the Okanagan Young Professionals (OYP), a program of the COEDC. This program is a result of a 2012 labour market study that revealed a huge need for a stronger labour force by 2020, 75,000 new skilled workers in the Okanagan. The OYP was created to address a portion of this need by helping attract and retain young professionals in the Central Okanagan. The program targets ways of connecting young professionals to personal and professional opportunities.

Dustyn Baulkham | COEDC | Workforce Development Officer

Dustyn is a proud 2010 UBC-O Management alumni who left a successful banking career to pursue his ideal of a better business experience. He believes that the traditional notion of "customer service" is outdated and that each business interaction should elicit a memorable and positive experience translated as a feeling.

Equality, human rights, and involvement with the community are what drive Dustyn's passion. These beliefs are what make him a fantastic leader and relationship builder who demands transparency in all dealings. He is constantly growing his personal knowledge in nutrition and the health of mind, body and soul. Above all, Dustyn is about fun. He believes that the world is a better place with laughter and that people learn better and connect more naturally with each other when they are enjoying themselves. Part of his drive stems from a humble belief of inclusivity. Dustyn believes that everyone is unique and that what is unique is beautiful. As a direct reflection of his caring and honest mentality, he has spent countless hours on nonprofit boards and organizations committees such as Fierste Canada Pride, Canadian Association of Business Schools Annual Roundtable Conference (2011), Okanagan Pride and many others.

Boasting an extensive network of colleagues and friends worldwide, his aspiration has earned him a wide range of experience in both businesses and nonprofit organizations. After spending years working in customer service and sales at BMO, and as a Recruiter, Manager of Customer Service and Team Manager at TD Bank Group he was recently hired on to support the Central Okanagan Economic Development Commission on Workforce Development. Here, he is focusing on addressing the gaps identified in the "Growing in the Okanagan - 2020 Labour Market Outlook" report in order to improve the quality of life for professionals in the Okanagan community and growing the availability of opportunities in the workforce.

Through his company Princess Circle Inc., he enjoys working with organizations that are committed to improving their overall experience with their customers, clients, members and employees alike. He applies a unique, straightforward approach to a common business problem, that of lasting, impressionable relationships. Dustyn recognized that many companies fail to understand the importance of fostering an empowering work environment, and building genuine relationships with employees and customers. This is what inspired him to write his book People Above Profit due for release in 2016, to help people build the better workplace. Dustyn finds immeasurable pride in his work. He believes that people are the beating heart of an organization, and the stronger that heart beats the better the product of its labour.

EVENT THEMES

Thursday, May 12 | Level Nightclub 80's Dance Party

Let's take a trip back to the 80's... because everyone loves dancing to Madonna all night long! When it comes to your look this Thursday night - think leg warmers in neon colors, fingerless gloves (a la Michael Jackson), jumpsuits, stone-washed denim, mini skirts, and of course side ponytails. You'll be guaranteed an epic night for an epic decade at Kelowna's premier, Level Nightclub.

Friday, May 13 | Cannery Lounge Hawaiian Luau

Palm trees and sandy beaches might be far away, so we are bringing the tropics to Kelowna to celebrate this Friday. Break out the leis, grass skirts and loud Hawaiian shirts because it's hula time as we adventure to the iconic Cannery Lounge in the heart of the historic downtown Kelowna ! Aloha!

Saturday, May 14 | Gala Masquerade

The Canadian Association of Business Students would like to cordially invite you to the Masquerade Ball, taking place in the charming Rotary Centre for the Arts situated in the beautiful downtown core. Choose a mask and wear it well, so your true identity, no one can tell. Come wearing your finest apparel and enjoy an evening of celebrations in style.
